The general drift of the news indicates that the Democrats have made Congressional guint. The returns from Massachusetts while knoomplete show that Russell has made beary gains over last year and his election is claimed by the Democrats. They also claim the election of Hoar for Congress in the Fifth District, over Fox Republican. In New York, Tammany has elected its outlies tighet over the combination of Democrats and Republicans. The State Legislature will be Republican. From the West the returns are very meagre. Iows has overtured the Democrats and elected the cotice Republican State ticket. Minnerota, too, is safely Republican, as is also Kansas and Obio. In the last named State the shameful Democratic gersymander seems to have falled of its purcialmed by the Republicans and also the election of ex-Gov. Foster, who was a faudidate for Congress. The election of Major [] . McKinly if confirmed by later returns with be a magnificient triumph and will cause much satisfaction. The doors are open both ways; why do British laborers never go back to the land they have left? The sea is free to all, and Britain has ships to all lands; why do British emigrants come to the L'olted States when they could go to other countries!

British official reports show that wilbin ten years ending with 1989, out of the net emigration to all countries $3.3 per cent-went to the United States, more than twice as much as went to all other countries put together, as follows .

From 1850 to 1860 there were berloutel revenue duties which efforded partial protection, and a larger measure on some articles than the protective duties now afford. But to the years 1851-00, as = clusive, the number of immigrants from ferent Britain, not including Ireland, because of the exceptional faralos there, was #55,971, while during the last ten years the gumber coming to this country under protection has been $59,573, more than twice as many. But the L'olted States ander protection takes more than twice as many as all of bem per together.

Mr. Gledstone dogmetically asserts that protection, must burt this nabappy concry. It becomes him then to expisin how, after twenty years of constant protection in the United States and constant free trade in Great Britain, there went from Great Britain, not lociuding freland, 869.-573 persons in a decade to the land of protection, though thirty years earlier, when America was trying to imitate a British policy, extraordinary circumstances brought hither less than half as many in a decade. He cannot say that the cou of British isbor bas deteriorated, for in recent glowing panegyries on Victoria's reign he has insisted that Great Eritain se in that and, all respects made great advances. But the United States under protection has advanced so much more that British emigration to this country has more than doubled,
